Canvas Giclée

The Giclée process enables us to print directly onto museum-quality canvas material, so prints will not separate over time. Canvas prints are delivered with your choice of three mounting options: Canvas Board, Canvas Stretch, or the popular Canvas Gallery Wraps. Protective spray coating is applied to the surface of each print to help prevent scratches and other damage.

Giclée Canvas Gallery Wraps

A stylish, low-cost alternative to traditional framing! Photos are printed directly on to canvas using high quality archival inks. The canvas print is then wrapped around a stretcher frame so that 1¾" of the photo's edges are visible on the sides of the frame. A finishing spray is applied to each piece to protect the surface of the print. Delivered display-ready with hanging hardware attached.

Giclée Canvas Stretch

Stretched Canvas mounting is a unique way to display your images like a fine art canvas. Photos are printed directly onto canvas using high quality archival inks. The resulting canvas print is then stretched and stapled onto a wood artists stretcher bar frame. A protective spray is applied to the surface of the print to create a beautifully finished, yet durable piece suitable for framing or displaying as-is.

Giclée Canvas Board

Photos are printed directly onto canvas using high quality archival inks. The resulting canvas print is then mounted on Gator Foamboard for a beautifully finished print. A protective spray is applied to the surface of the print to help prevent scratches and other damage.

Important Additional Information

All photos include touch up. However if you request that extensive acne or scarring be touched up, there is an additional fee of $10 per image.

If you would like your photo shoot at multiple locations, travel time is part of the allocated time. So please choose your locations wisely. If it takes 30 minutes to travel from one location to the next, that is part of the hourly rate.
